

One of the first aims of the Organisation Gestosis (OG), Society for The Study of Pathophysiology of Pregnancy was the establishing of its own Library as reference point for all members of the OG as well as for anybody interested in EPH - Gestosis and its wide spread problems. By collecting donations from authors, congress proceedings, monographs and textbooks as well as periodicals, the library got started as early as 1965. After founding the Organisation gestosis Press their publications were added to the collection. The personal medical library of the Secretary General of the OG was also added such reaching quite a high number of pertinent medical volumes for the service and help to scientists.

Now by donation the OG Library was united with other publication about EPH - Gestosis, such presenting under the Name of IAMSS Web library and OGASH Library Centre a centre of wisdom and information for those who need scientific support and encouragement.

By the desired location of this unique library in Georgia, especially the medical profession of this country is privileged for its easy access. We dearly hope that library is a living part of medical practice and research in Georgia, its knowledge and presented results may add such to the health and well-being of the Georgian population.
